Optionally, you can set your background to an HTML5 video. If you would like this, give me a video snippet that you think would be good. I will pass some videos your way for this as well when I have time.

No, I'll stick w/ pics only for now.

Your firms Logo

You mentioned the theme color of this site being green but green has plenty of shades. Please give me an image that displays your ideal green and I can retrieve that exact color from your given image to be used for your site.

Logo guy still coming up w/ designs

**These are the basic fundamentals I need to give you a decent first draft that we can continue building on, the sooner you provide this, the sooner I can provide you with the minimum viable product and the sooner your site will be done. If you have anything you would like to add that I missed with the questions above, please list and describe what you would like below.

Thanks Kevin, these are the begining details I expect any web designer to ask. It tells me you know your shit
